At last! A fast and professional service and repair facility for framing equipment

It is a highly likely that most of us have experienced a breakdown of equipment or machinery in our workshop at some point.

Had you considered how inconvenient to your business it would be if the piece of equipment that failed was one essential to the day to day running of your business?

- Who can we call upon to repair or maintain my machine?
- How long will we be without our machine?

EQUIPMENT

Whilst modern framing equipment is extremely reliable, it still benefits from regular servicing. Regular servicing and routine maintenance will extend the operational life, maintain performance, and helps to reduce the incidence of more costly breakdowns, but most importantly it protects the initial investment you have made in your equipment.

If your call is a breakdown or just a routine service, our trained engineer can help. Our aim is to be with you ASAP. Should a repair necessitate the removal of your machine from site a replacement machine may be made available to you on loan (subject to availability).

Peter constantly undergoes training programs to ensure that he is up to date and able to repair the latest models of equipment.
